

ink WITH intent

meaningful art for meaningful days

EGALITARIAN (ENGLISH) ALTERNATIVE ENGLISH

On the ___ day of the week, the ___ day of the month of ___ in the year ____, corresponding to the ___ of _____ in the year _____, in ____, ____, _____, (son/daughter) of _____ and _____, and _____, (son/daughter) of _____ and _____, entered into the holy covenant of marriage before God and these witnesses. With joyful hearts, each vowed to the other: “I consecrate you to me as my loving spouse according to the laws of Moses and the traditions of our people. Our lives shall be forever intertwined. I will love you deeply, trust in you completely, and listen to you compassionately. I will strive each day to strengthen our relationship to its fullest potential and to honor your needs and dreams.” And ___ and ___ pledged together: “We promise to comfort, nourish, and support one another. In times of happiness, we will cherish each other; through life’s storms, we will shelter each other. We will be slow to anger and quick to forgive, and we shall grow ever closer as beloveds and friends. My commitment to you, and yours to me, binds us together. From this day forward, we are as one.”